

ALLIES INTENSIFY PRE-INVASION ATTACKS

Meandering Along the Main Stem By WASH FAYETTE

While talking with some friends the other day I noticed how often the word "ration" came up in the conversation.

Five years ago this word was virtually unknown and today it is almost a by-word. We read about it in our papers, hear about it on our radio, we talk about it when we get low on gas or groceries and we cuss about it when we are completely out of ration coupons.

The other day a friend showed me the latest copy of "Your Life" and in it was an item written by Norman Lewis on the pronunciation of "ration".

Here's what he said. "Some people pronounce it to rhyme with 'nation' others rhyme it with 'fashion'. Strictly speaking, both forms are correct, and most dictionaries give free choice. The present swing, however, seems to give ration the same short A, as in 'fashion', when it is used in a modern sense of sugar ration, meat ration, etc. . . ."

Speaking of "ration" I heard one man put it this way, "With the present day rationing, it seems that everything is rationed except ration books."

Now that so many parents are working in war factories and industrial plants in this and other cities, the need for playgrounds and recreation programs to keep the children occupied has become urgent.

It's been proven by state traffic authorities that more accidents among young people happen during the summer months when the children are out-of-doors most of the time.

One man in Washington C. H. recently told me, "parents who are gone most of the day could easily construct a small play-yard for their children with a wall tall enough to keep a child from climbing over the fence and into the street."

"Such a playground could be built without spending a great deal of money, but even if it did cost a little it would be worth the effort."

"The things my children like, and doubtless most other little tots, are the very simple things that can be made very easily with hammer and saw, like swings, see-saw or a sand box."

In Washington C. H. we are fortunate in having a community recreation program centering at Gardner Park which is operating throughout the summer.

And if you work during the day and don't have any place for your child to go why don't you have a talk with either Amelia Pensyl or George Miraben, the supervisors? You'll find they are willing to help you with your problem. While you are at it, why not see what games there are for the young people, ping-pong, softball and basketball, also comic books and other amusements are there for the younger element.

The park's activities don't end there, however, and it is a good place for adults to spend extra time, too.

Before gasoline rationing went into effect some of us predicted that there would be ample parking space on the streets in the up-town area just about all of the time.

However, it seems that there is more parking of automobiles in the up-town area than there was before rationing went into effect. It is explained this way: Motorists have less gas to use and are staying closer home, with the result that many cars are parked in the up-town area while the owners shop.

Day and night, however, there is little change in the number of cars parked now as compared with pre-rationing days, so all cars parked are not those of shoppers or workers.

FDR CHALLENGE IS EVADED BY SUBSIDY CRITICS

Food Price Roll-back Is Taking Spotlight in Nation's Capital

OWI PROBE PROPOSED

Labor Board Expected To Make Some Decision in Mine Wage Dispute

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—Price Administrator Prentiss Brown, returning from a 10-day vacation, set out today to clean up what he called "the mess people think OPA is in" and congress seized on the opportunity to quiz him about the food problem.

Brown, back from a Michigan holiday where he pondered on the problems of the office of price administration (OPA), indicated he had reached some positive conclusions.

He had a chance to unload his ideas before the senate banking committee which wanted to know explicitly how far Brown intends to go on his subsidy program.

Food Price Row
Congressional foes of the administration's plan to keep food prices down by subsidizing producers declined today to respond to a presidential challenge to offer a better method until they have found out more about the "roll-back" program.

Prentiss M. Brown, chief of the office of administration (OPA) was called before the senate banking committee to explain just how far and in what direction the administration's plans are expected to go.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who yesterday demanded on the floor a complete reorganization of price control, said he intended to ask Brown the minimum amount of funds he wanted to carry out the program.

"Then," Taft added, "I'll see if he'll agree to submit this program to congress."

Critics Challenged
President Roosevelt, who told a press conference yesterday that if congressional critics of the subsidy idea knew of a better way to buck inflation they could come out with it, mentioned $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 as the possible cost.

These were just figures he had taken from the newspapers, he said, but assuming they were correct it would mean only 1 1/2 to 2 percent of the cost of prosecuting the war.

Mr. Roosevelt said he had no intention of splitting up the OPA or of establishing a food "czar." Congressional advocates of a central food authority indicated, after receiving no encouragement at the White House, that they might resort to legislative action.

Czar Idea Vetoed
Mr. Roosevelt said it was obvious how perfectly impossible it would be to set up a czar who could insist on moving food shipments ahead of weapons needed at the fighting fronts.

While Taft and most other senators declined to comment on the president's press conference remarks, one lawmaker observed, without permitting use of his name, that "it looks to me like

Axis Plane Losses With Yanks 6 To 1

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—The Axis is losing six planes for every American four-engine bomber shot down over Europe, the War Department says, and this sign of intensified air combat placed new emphasis today on Prime Minister Churchill's remark that bombing Germany out of the war was well worth trying.

The stepped-up tempo of the Eighth U. S. Air Force, operating out of England—prompted the department yesterday to the unusual—an announcement of its accomplishments in recent weeks. It was the first statement of this kind issued by the War Department since the United States entered the global conflict.

The statement disclosed:
1—That U. S. air forces had made 18 heavy bombardment missions against targets within Germany itself, 11 of them since last May 14.

2—U. S. Planes based in England flew 1,600 sorties (a sortie is a flight by one plane) with four-engine bombers, in daylight precision attacks on industrial centers, naval bases and war plants.

3—The American bombers lost 106 planes in this all-out campaign, but shot down 571 German craft, many of them no doubt fighters, probably destroyed 187 more, and damaged 231 in combat.

The War Department listed these milestones in the career of the U. S. Air Command under Major General Ira C. Eaker:
Jan. 27—Attacks on German proper for the first time; hits on docks and naval base installations at Wilhelmshaven.

Feb. 4—Heavy damage to submarine base at Emden.

Feb. 26—Hits on entire target area of Wilhelmshaven.

March 4—Direct hits on rail yards at Hamm.

March 18—Severe damage to seven of 15 U-boat hulls on slips at Vegesack, only two escaping some sort of injury; powerhouse almost completely destroyed.

March 22—Destruction of quays, railways, docks and supply buildings at Wilhelmshaven.

April 17—Damage to Focke-Wulf factory—output of the plant may have been completely stopped for a period.

May 14-19—Damage widespread at Kiel, the great naval base.

INVASION FORCES IN ENGLAND READY

Yanks and Tommies Train For Special Assaults

ON ENGLAND'S SOUTH COAST, June 16.—(AP)—When the hour of invasion strikes, the high name of a navy made famous by men like Drake and Nelson will rest for one climactic moment in the hands of purposeful young Yorkshire farm lands and London truck drivers, who have been building the new naval assault tradition with Dieppe and North Africa for a starter.

These recruits—mostly men of last year's draft—have been training by the hundreds at scattered coastal bases to man the swiftly increasing fleet of shallow draft land craft for men and tanks which is being turned out in both Britain and the United States.

It will be the task of these men, working in crews of four, five or ten, to get the assault forces ashore and fight alongside them if necessary when the zero hour for invasion comes.

People Of Moscow Calm But Ready With Nazi Army Poised For Attack

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Eddy Gilmore, who writes the following story on how Russia's people face the impending summer campaign, has just returned to America after nearly two years as an Associated Press correspondent in Moscow.)

By EDDY GILMORE

NEW YORK, June 16.—(AP)—With a large part of the German army camped just beyond Moscow's front yard—and ready to strike if you believe in signs—you'd think the little people of the big old city would be getting slightly excited as the tension tightens.

Well, they aren't. The Ivan Ivanoviches and the Sonia Ivanovas of Mother Moscow are paying about as much attention to the Wehrmacht on the capital front as they would be to a well charged but well controlled samovar.

A samovar needs watching. Just keep it under watchful eye and control and nothing much is going to happen to anyone or anything—except the samovar.

For weeks the citizens of Moscow and the land between Moscow and such Russian cities as Briansk, Orel, Svesk, Kursk, Smolensk and Velikie Luki have known that a lot is going on.

They knew Hitler has turned into these sectors many trains bearing troops, tanks, guns, mortars and all the other implements of war. They are well aware that as the flooded Russian roads dried the Germans brought up—and are still bringing up—thousands of loaded trucks.

The little people, the apartment house dwellers, the keepers of little cottages, the tillers of the fields and all the others, know that such a great German concentration means a push is imminent.

The Russian newspapers have hammered

CHAPLIN WOOS YOUNG ACTRESS

So Says Gossip Which Puts Spice in Other Woman's Paternity Charges

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—(AP)—The Los Angeles Times states that it has learned from an unimpeachable source that Charles Chaplin and Oona O'Neill, 18-year-old daughter of playwright Eugene O'Neill, will be married today by a justice of the peace at an undisclosed place.

Neither the 54-year-old comedian-producer nor Miss O'Neill could be reached to confirm the report, which was circulated widely in Hollywood last night, the Times said.

The newspaper's account stated that Chaplin and Miss O'Neill named New York's No. 1 debutante last year, have known each other about eight months, and added that from informed persons it was learned they "might

War Achievements On Home Front Are Revealed In Budget

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—A $2,939,441,504 omnibus appropriations bill, bundling up the fiscal needs of 18 government war agencies, was turned over to congress today as the nation's economic war chiefs told an epic story of American progress in the battle of the home front.

It was the first annual report, the balance sheet for the past year and the budget sheet for the next such war-born bureau as the office of price administration (OPA), the war production board (WPB), censorship, the office of war information (OWI), and the war shipping administration (WSA).

Spread over 2,100 printed pages of testimony were the explanations of top officials in charge of directing the country's economic life, from war production to consumer prices. There was praise and criticism from the house appropriations committee which approved their 1944 allocations with these words:

"Great credit is due the war agencies for what has been accomplished. Mistakes have been made and will be made. They are to be expected. There has been no loss of motion. The speed of action would not have been attained without it."

"Improvements have been made and will continue to be made by war agencies. Constructive criti-

JAP BASE AT RABAU IS LEFT IN FLAMES

All Allied Bombers Back Safely from Raid

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 16.—(AP)—Fires which could be seen 60 miles away and a series of violent explosions were started among Japanese planes on Lakunai Air-drome, Rabaul, New Britain, yesterday from 23 tons of Allied bombs.

Increasing to 135 tons the bomb weight to fall on Rabaul's airfields during four raids made within six days, 19 Liberators joined in the latest attack and all got home safely after weathering intense anti-aircraft fire and the weak opposition of seven enemy night fighters.

The Berlin radio said Allied bombers also were over north Germany last night and "isolated bombs caused insignificant damage." There was no immediate confirmation from British sources, however.

British sources said Berlin's alert probably was the result of British reconnaissance flights in which some bombs may have been dropped.

Axis broadcasters declared a great invasion fleet was massing in the western half of the Mediterranean, and from semi-official sources in Ankara came a report that the Allies had closed Syria's frontier with Turkey.

The Berlin radio, however, in a broadcast of Ankara dispatches asserted the Turkish-Syrian frontier was not closed and that the Istanbul-Baghdad train was running as usual.

"All that has been done is that frontier control has been made more strict," with particular attention to persons bearing Syrian or Iraqi visas, the radio said.

Official Allied sources kept mum.

Unofficial observers suggested the Ankara announcement might indicate that the British ninth and ten armies and U. S. troops that have been quietly building up strength in Syria, Palestine, Iraq and Iran might now be moving or planning to move suddenly.

The Daily Herald quoted German reports that the Allies had built up an "invasion army" in Syria.

The British Broadcasting Corporation interpreted closing of the 350-mile border as a move

16 Year-old Veteran Of War Is Discharged

BY JOSEPH MORTON

AN ADVANCED AMERICAN AIR BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, June 16.—(AP)—Stagg Sergeant Clifford R. Wherley of Elmwood, Ill., turret gunner of a B-26 Martin Marauder with more than 100 combat hours to his credit, is retiring from the war at the ripe old age of 16—by parental request and with government consent.

Four times decorated, he is being sent back home by the army because he still is two years too young to be fighting in a man's war. Moreover, the army noted that he "stretched" his age four years—from 14 to the legal 18—when he enlisted on April Fool's Day in 1942.

This was discovered recently when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wherley of Elmwood, wrote to the War Department that they thought their son was too young to be in combat. He had been telling them in his letters about the excitement of fighting in flak-filled skies over Tunisia, Pantelleria, Sicily and Sardinia, they said.

The young gunner, who has been on 21 combat missions, got the bad news that he was through when his group adjutant called him in and read aloud a red-bordered "immediate action" report.

The report noted that the correct date of his birth was May 28, 1927, and ordered his return to the United States "for discharge" because he was under age.

"I was so mad I didn't remember what was in the report," the 154-pound, five-foot, five-inch "kid gunner" ruefully reported to his flying mates. "But I have enjoyed myself here, although it is a little strenuous at times. It's hard on a guy's nerves."

Eighteen of his 21 combat flights were over Tunisia when German aircraft filled the sky and the anti-aircraft flak was thick.

FIRST OF SEABEES BACK FROM BATTLE

Built Things - - Not Tough Job Because They're Tough

SEATTLE, June 16.—(AP)—A rugged, weather-beaten battalion of Naval Seabees home from overseas duty in the Aleutians, described their job today as "building things, anywhere, anytime."

Leaders said they were the first naval construction battalion to return from work overseas. The thousand or more men returned here on an army transport. They had been away from the States more than a year.

Chief Carpenter's Mate H. D. Markley of Canton, O., told interviewers: "Our job was to build things, anywhere, anytime. It wasn't as tough as they make out, or maybe we got toughened up to it."

"I was so mad I didn't remember what was in the report," the 154-pound, five-foot, five-inch "kid gunner" ruefully reported to his flying mates. "But I have enjoyed myself here, although it is a little strenuous at times. It's hard on a guy's nerves."

'For He's A Jolly Good Fellow' British Sing To King In Africa

By Relman Morin (Representing the Combined United States Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 16.—(AP)—King George VI of England has been in North Africa since last Saturday, visiting the scenes of the Allies' greatest victory and talking with the soldiers and sailors who won it. The news was held an official secret until today.

His inspection tour, crowded into a few days, took the monarch into a number of different British and American military establishments, aboard warships, through convalescent camps—even to a stretch of beach where more than 3,000 troops were having a Sunday swim.

That was an unforgettable moment. The men caught sight of the King standing on the ver-

RULING ON SLOW TIME DOES NOT MEAN A CHANGE

Does Not Mean a Thing Here, Says John B. Hill, Prosecutor

An opinion given by Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert, upon request of the Putnam County prosecutor, that all official acts of county officials must be performed in accordance with the standard of time established by the Ohio General Assembly, "does not mean a thing here," is the opinion of Fayette County's prosecutor, John B. Hill, who points out that the question has not been decided by law and that the ruling of the attorney general is, after all, just an opinion.

Prosecutor Hill further said that the observance of time is largely up to the people of any community, and that insofar as the opinion is concerned, it will not interfere with the action of county officials here.

In connection with the opinion of the attorney general, a newspaper dispatch from Hamilton states: "Time in Butler County has been a controversial issue since the amendment became effective. Butler commissioners ordered that the Courthouse conform to slow or state time and that the Courthouse elevator and switchboard be operated according to that schedule. This conflict with Hamilton time has been criticised by many groups.

the president is getting ready to blame us if the subsidy-rollback method fails."

Senator Bushfield (R-SD) said the president's approval of the subsidy payment plan "demonstrates that the White House's only solution to an economic problem is a raid on the United States Treasury."

The cost of subsidies, he said, would have to be paid by the taxpayers plus interest charges and administration costs. With the government administering the system, he added, "the cost will be from two to three times the total amount of the subsidies."

CALENDAR MADE BY BOARD FOR CITY'S SCHOOLS

Schedule To Follow That Of Last Year With Only Minor Deviations

There were 24 red-letter days on the city school calendar drawn up by the Board of Education at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The school year is scheduled to start on September 7 and run until May 26 with 180 days of class room work.

Vacations will follow very much the same schedule as that for the previous year Superintendent A. B. Murray explained as he pointed out that there would be no spring vacation, except the Good Friday holiday. The first 90-day semester is to end January 19 and the second 90-days is to start the following day without any between-semester vacation.

Classes are to be dismissed on December 23 for the Christmas holidays and reconvene on January 3.

The calendar, the superintendent declared, was drawn up in accordance with state requirements and he added he thought this was the first city in Ohio to complete the painstaking task.

In view of the complexities of calendar making, Supt. Murray said little time was left for consideration of any other questions. Considerable time was spent in discussing the application of the new pay-go tax plan to teachers' salaries for tax deductions but no definite action was taken. Each teacher, it was said, would have to furnish a certificate of personal status for making income tax deductions.

Adoption of a schedule of salaries for the teachers was not taken up, but Supt. Murray said that this probably would be ready this month and before the next meeting of the board. Increases in accordance with the special levy approved by the voters June 8 are to be incorporated in them.

Here are the red letter days of next school year:

- Sept. 4, Informal teachers meeting—10 A. M. at high school auditorium.
- Sept. 7, First day of school—Tuesday after Labor Day.
- Oct. 15, End of first six week period, 29 days.
- Oct. 18, Beginning of second six week period.
- Oct. 29-30, O.E.A. Meeting—no school.
- Nov. 25, Legal holiday—end of second six week period of 29 days.
- Nov. 25-26, Thanksgiving vacation.
- Nov. 26, No school—not a day in session.
- Nov. 29, Beginning of third six week period.
- Dec. 23, Last day of school in 1943.
- Dec. 24 to Jan. 2, Christmas vacation.
- Jan. 3, Return to school.
- Jan. 19, End of third six week period of 32 days.
- Jan. 19, end of semester of 90 days.
- Jan. 20, Beginning of semester.
- March 3, End of fourth six week period of 32 days.
- March 6, Beginning of fifth six week period.
- April 7, Good Friday—no school.
- April 14, End of fifth six week period of 29 days.

"to check leakage of information from Syria and Palestine to Germany through Turkey."

In an interview in Ankara last night with Frank J. O'Brien of the Associated Press, Premier Saracoglu gave no light on the Syrian border question. He said Turkey would continue the strictest vigilance toward neutrality. He indicated his government was impressed with American conduct of the war and expressed surprise that recent Mediterranean events had moved so swiftly.

A broadcast by the Leningrad radio, recorded here by the Ministry of Information, raised the possibility, meanwhile, that Allied strategy may be to strike at Axis Europe from several directions at once.

"There can be no doubt that the blow against Hitlerite Germany from the west will coincide with a mighty crushing blow of the Red army from the east," the Leningrad report said.

King George VI has arrived secretly in North Africa on what may be a final pre-zero hour visit to the British and American armies girding for an invasion of southern Europe.

While Axis invasion alarms rang with peak intensity up and down the Mediterranean, ranging from Gibraltar to the Turkish-Syrian frontier, Allied headquarters announced that the king had already inspected his victorious armed forces in the field and bestowed on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower the insignia of Knight of the Grand Cross, Order of the Bath.

Dispatches from La Linea, Spain, said another big Allied convoy had entered Gibraltar harbor, and an Italian communiqué reported that Axis planes were attacking Allied ships off the Algerian coast and landing boats off Pantelleria.

Other events at-a-glance: Western Air War—RAF night raiders blast Nazi targets from Denmark to Brittany; Germans report Allied bombers also near Berlin.

Russia—Leningrad broadcast declares Red armies set to hit Germany a "mighty crushing blow" from the east, synchronized with Allied invasion of Europe; Soviet troops again beat off strong Nazi assaults in Oreil sector.

ENGINEERS NOW SURVEYING FOR NEW OIL LINE

First Line To Be Finished In Ohio By Early In July

Engineers are now surveying Ohio for the second oil pipeline to be built from Texas to the east coast, which is to be 20 inches in diameter and carry gasoline instead of crude oil, according to reports.

A group of the engineers recently started at the pumping station east of Waterloo, and are working eastward, and another group will begin at the station and work westward within a few days, officials have announced.

The new line will parallel the present 24 inch line across Ohio, being laid within 25 feet of the present line, and probably on the north side.

It is expected that this line will be laid through Ohio during the summer months, as part of it has already been laid in Indiana, Texas and Arkansas.

Meanwhile, work on the 24 inch line is moving forward, and will be finished throughout Ohio by early July, under present plans.

It is understood that work on the main line is nearing completion through Indiana and Illinois, but has been slowed down in Pennsylvania by reason of difficult construction, due to the

REP W.S. PAXSON TELLS HOW OHIO LAWS ARE MADE

County's Representative to Legislature Speaks at Rotary Club Meeting

Members of the Rotary Club and guests learned how some Ohio laws are passed and why other bills introduced in the Ohio General Assembly never reach a vote, in an interesting talk by Fayette County's representative, W. S. Paxson at the regular club luncheon at the Country Club, Tuesday noon.

Legislative procedure in Ohio's General Assembly from the time of its organization by the Senate and House, the introduction of bills, committee hearings and consideration of such bills, action on the floor, and the final moves in making a bill a law, were described in a clear and comprehensive manner by Rep. Paxson, now serving his first term from this county, who said that he "liked to regard the state of Ohio as a giant corporation with the citizens as stockholders and the members of the legislature as the board of directors."

The speaker added that "it is very unfortunate that the general public takes so little interest in bills before the legislature, often not offering any critical comment until a bill becomes a law."

Paxson told how many proposed pieces of legislation are "held up" or "smothered" in a small committee, of less than a dozen members, to which a bill has been referred and declared that his own chief criticism of legislative procedure was regarding the rules which permitted a bill to be so barred from the "calendar" that it never had a chance to be heard discussed on the floor of the House or Senate. This is sometimes due to the influence of antagonistic pressure groups or "lobbies," sometimes by reason of the lack of interest by the author of the bill who has merely offered it as a result of some constituent's request. "This," declared Paxson, "is not my idea of a proper representative form of government." He explained that the present legislature had 700 bills introduced with 200 being enacted into law.

Representative Paxson was introduced by Webber French, member of the June program committee.

this into the people for weeks now. The army paper, Red Star, has shouted it to the soldier, and the Red Fleet, publication of the navy, had its say to the sailors. The Red army—more than any other army in the world—has felt the weight of a German push. It has been told that this summer the weight may be greater than ever before, that more tanks may come, that more dive bombers may be used, and that even gas may be employed.

The little people know Hitler is desperate. Twice he has driven deeply into the lands of their ancestors when the warm weather came, and twice when the cold weather arrived the Red army has pushed back the German.

This summer there is a strange deliberateness to Hitler's plans. They almost seem too apparent. He seems to be building solidly for the central or western front. There is much speculation that he may try to break through southwest of Moscow, drive westward, then turn northward and try to get behind the capital.

Only this is known—Hitler appears to have enough material and men on this front to seek to accomplish such a feat.

The German command has had four major objective setbacks:

1. Failure to take Moscow.
2. Failure to capture Stalin.
3. Failure to hold the Caucasus and her oil.
4. Failure to storm Leningrad or starve it out.

Can Hitler fail again in Russia? The Soviets, who are always always realists, realize that Hitler can fail again and possibly again. They don't rest on the rhetoric of the presumption that he can't fail again.

Great victories, they know, are often made of many failures. The open manner in which Hitler is building up the central front worries some of the thinkers. There's a possibility of a trick. He may also be building up that strong sector of the Taganrog line.

If Hitler goes for the Caucasus again he has to have Rostov, and made in the functioning of the cism has been helpful. It should continue and will be welcomed by the agencies. The type of criticism which serves only to create public distrust is not helpful to the war effort.

Part of that criticism was reflected in the accompanying appropriations bill. Few of the agencies escaped reductions as the committee inquired into such details as the need for expanding staffs, why the OPA's renting division should have used 50 tons of carbon paper.

War Production Chief Donald Nelson testified that "we are rapidly approaching the limit in our productive capacity in this country." He said the total output in 1943 would reach approximately $180,000,000,000 and said about half of it would be for direct war production.

Rubber Director William Jeffers reported that all the synthetic rubber plants should be in operation and producing by the end of the year and that he was counting on an output of about 800,000 long tons of synthetic rubber next year.

He declared that there would be at the end of this year about 140,000 tons of synthetic and crude rubber, and estimated that production of synthetic rubber by early autumn of 1944 would reach the point where it could supply normal demands.

There was strong intimation, too, that the nation is in for some new rationing programs, but just when they will go into effect was left to speculation.

In charge of rationing for OPA, Louis J. Kroeger reported that there were eight programs under contemplation. He hinted that one of them may deal with coal.

have been wed here had it not been for the Joan Berry suit," which charged that Chaplin is the father of Miss Berry's expected child.

Miss O'Neill recently was signed for a movie role, and Chaplin is said to have been coaching her.

By a court stipulation made June 10, Miss Berry, 23-year-old aspirant to a screen career, and Chaplin agreed to permit medical science to determine the paternity of the child by blood or other tests which will be conducted not less than four months after its birth, their attorneys announced.

The stipulation also provides that Chaplin will pay approximately $18,500 for Miss Berry's hospital and medical expenses, attorneys' fees and various other costs, pending the tests. It is agreed, counsel said, that the suit will be dismissed if tests show Chaplin is not the father. Chaplin has been married three times previously—to Mildred Harris, Lita Grey and Pauline Goddard—but in each case divorce ended the romance.

Quickly the veranda was a solid mass of tanned, dripping men. Suddenly the excited hum of conversation hushed. The British troops began singing "God Save the King."

The moment the anthem ended the King turned and came down the steps onto the beach itself. That wasn't part of the schedule, and it caught his aides so by surprise that he almost got away from them.

The King walked down into the center of the crowd and stood there talking with those nearest him. Then they sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." There were many French civilians present. They cried "Vive Le Roi!" (Hail the King!) two old Frenchmen looked at each other and one said: "It's been a long time since I have said those words."

"THOUSANDS PER MINUTE"

came a standardized product made of steel, and approved for use on all the battle fronts.

The making of this ammunition is really the art of producing many pieces rapidly—many thousands per minute, every day, 6 days a week. Ninety-nine operations are performed to take each piece of ammunition from the lead, steel and powder stage to the formed, loaded, tested and packed, finished article—ready to shoot,—with every piece perfect in shape, finish, and firing efficiency.

We have made our first billion of this steel ammunition. Not that this is a top record for ammunition making but, to us, it is a milestone passed on the road to Victory. We will pass the second and third billion with much less emotion but we really got a thrill out of joining the ranks of the important producers of ammunition.

With this change to steel we release, with every billion rounds, thousands of tons of brass. This brass can now be used in war production where no other substitute is possible.

"A LITTLE THING BECAME BIG"

A finished round of ammunition weighs only a few ounces. Little things often do become really big and important.

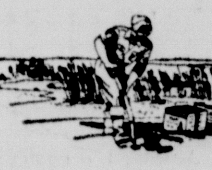

THE U.S. ARMY Ordnance Department, early in 1942, asked one of our executives if we had a factory near a good supply of water, of sufficient size to make small calibre ammunition at the rate of many millions every twenty-four hours. We had such a factory on the Ohio River with enough feet of floor space.

"FROM CARPS TO BULLETS FOR TOMMY GUNS, PISTOLS, REVOLVERS"

It was well placed near additional unused land and far enough from the city to allow the storage of powder and the loading and testing of ammunition.

The work of preparation was started immediately. The automobile machinery in the plant, which could not be used, was dismantled and put elsewhere. It was replaced by new and different equipment. A specialized laboratory was installed and staffed with engineers, metallurgists, and technicians drawn from our widely diversified staff. Production executives and specialists were also selected from our own personnel. While the factory was being prepared for production, the Frankford arsenal assisted the training of these production specialists who, in turn, were to train the workers and supervise the operation of the many departments of the plant.

The first finished ammunition produced in this newly organized plant went on test in May, 1942. The cartridge cases were then made of brass. Brass is an extremely vital war material. Could steel be used instead? Could steel be worked over the machinery and tools that were provided for the use of brass? Could the steel be treated to withstand the corrosion of a long sea voyage and to resist successfully the humidity of the tropics and the sub-zero temperatures of the Arctic? The U. S. Army Ordnance Department—and our own engineers, metallurgists and technicians believed it could. More engineering talent—this time chemists—were added to the laboratory staff and the larger and more complete Chrysler Corporation's laboratories, in Detroit, were also directed to the solution of this problem.

The first of the new steel casings were made in the month of August, 1942. They were pretty good. Then began severe testing,—spraying with wet salt air, burying in salty mud marshes washed by the tide,—storing in hot damp rooms and open exposure to the

Mr. and Mrs. David Whiteside entertained the County Commissioners and the Board of Trustees of the Fayette County Children's Home Wednesday noon.

It has been the custom for many years to invite county officials, social workers and friends for this meeting. The children look forward to the day as "Big Dinner Day." It is a sort of goal toward which all work—everything must be spiced and span and open for inspection.

The dinner at noon, of course, is the big feature. The base of the dinner is fried chicken. The rest of the menu, consisting of potatoes, peas, lettuce, radishes, beets and onions, butter and cream are all produced on the premises.

Mr. Whiteside, the superintendent, acted as toastmaster and introduced the guests.

Those invited to enjoy the hospitality of the Home were the County Commissioners and wives, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Nisley and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parrett; Members of the Board of Trustees and wives, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Perrill, Mr. and Mrs. Percie Kennell, Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Cavince, Judge and Mrs. Otis B. Core, Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Brock, Home Physician, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. CIGARETTE FUND OF LEGION POST MORE THAN $250

5,500 Packages Go to Boys At Battle Stations All Over World

You folks who have been dropping nickels and dimes in those little glass jars that sit in prominent places in 48 stores in Washington C. H. have helped relieve the tension and strain of war for literally hundreds of American fighting men at battle stations all over the world.

Under an arrangement made with the Liggett and Myers Tobacco Co. by the American Legion Post here, every nickel dropped into those jars will send a full package of Chesterfield cigarettes to the boys overseas—that's supplying them at about one-third the retail price, with the manufacturer meeting the other two-thirds.

A check-up on the jars showed that during the first three weeks they have been in the stores, approximately $250 has been contributed to the Legion post's cigarette fund, a representative of Liggett and Myers said Wednesday. Breaking the cash contribution down into cigarettes, he said that 5,500 packages would be or already had been shipped to the men in the armed forces. He added that at the request of the post officers, 2,500 packs had been ordered sent to the South Pacific war zone because so many Ohio boys are now serving there. The remaining 3,000 packs, he added, are to go "where they are most needed."

The plan has not been in operation long enough to get any reaction from the boys, but in each carton of ten packages there is a return card addressed to the Paul H. Hughes Post of the Legion. Before long now, post officers said, they should be coming back and then the appreciation of the men will be recorded in black and white in their own words. These cards are looked on as being potentially one of the most intimate personal records of the war.

The company representatives here to check with post officers said the response of the people of Washington C. H. and Fayette County had been "wonderful," and he added that "it is by far the best of any cities in this part of the state." Credit for the success of the plan was attributed to three things: 1. Generosity and affection of the people for their fighting men; 2. Cooperation of the store managements in placing the jars in conspicuous places and reminding their customers that they are there, and 3. To the stimulant given it by R. B. Tharp and Howard D. Fogle of the Legion committee in charge of the plan.

It was emphasized that the jars would remain where they have been and both hope and confidence was expressed that there would be no let-down in public support.

Imbued with patriotism and appreciation of what America's fighting Yanks are doing to eventually free the enslaved peoples of Greece, two natives of the now Nazi-whipped little country set a mark for others to shoot at. Nick Vanvils, an employee of the Choo-man Cafe, and Nick Vrettos, proprietor of the Goody Shoppe have kept the little jars out where they could not be overlooked. Vanvils fought in the first World War with the American forces overseas and is a member of the Legion post, and largely because he passes the jar around among patrons of the cafe frequently, it yielded $34 the first time it was opened. Vrettos' jar was not far behind, it was said. Both Vanvils and Vrettos have relatives among the starved and persecuted peoples of Greece.

PEAS MATURING IN RECORD TIME

One Load Shells Out 2,777 Pounds of Peas at Ladoga Plant

Peas are maturing in record time as result of the hot weather recently, Harry Hyer, superintendent of the Ladoga Canning Plant, said Wednesday.

Hyer said that 60 days is the normal time for peas to mature, but this time some of the peas have been ready to can on the 48th day after they were planted. One load of peas, brought in from the Paris Custer farm on the Bogus Road, produced 2,777 pounds of peas, and was the largest load ever reaching the local plant.

In fact the load was so big that it required two farm tractors to help pull it from the field.

The product of five acres was hauled at two loads. Work of packing the pea crop here is proceeding rapidly, and the first planting will be packed within the next few days. After a short period of time the late crop will be harvested, and will require 10 days or two weeks.

School Board Seeks Funds For Current Expenses For Two Years

In response to a resolution adopted by the Jasper Village School District, asking for a levy not to exceed two mills, for current operating expenses for the schools during 1943 and 1944, the Fayette County Board of Elections has called a special election for Thursday, July 20.

The election is to be from 6:30 A. M. until 6:30 P. M., "official Ohio time," according to the resolution.

It is noted in the resolution that the levy is to be in excess of the 10 mill limitation, and not to exceed two mills for both years that it is in force.
